

"Fierce soul harmonies accompanying a swampy, guitar-soaked roots sound"
The Sydney Morning Herald, 2018

THE TURNER BROWN BAND

Art of Sound 2020: World Creative Music Public Performance

Presented by the Music Program (SHCA) with support from Sustainable Futures (PVC Learning Futures)

You are invited to join us for an afternoon performance with The Turner Brown Band. Experience what happens when southern US Church-based 'Sacred Steel' music crashes head on with blues-based sounds. This event showcases creative approaches to social justice, cultural diversity and gender equity.

EVENT DETAILS

DATE: Thursday, 12th March 2020 from 1.00pm - 2.00pm

VENUE: The Playhouse, Kingswood campus, Western Sydney University

RSVP: Please RSVP via our event page. Registration is essential as seats are limited.

PROGRAM: This event will be emceed by Associate Professor Sally Macarthur (Director of Academic Program, Music and Music Therapy) and features a 45 minute set by The Turner Brown Band, followed by a lively panel discussion with leading thinkers to discuss the performance and diversity challenges in the music industry.